Dear Bedell:

So far I have not been contacted for briefing and since this is my last day I thought I should let you know. However, I will not leave for Louisiana for perhaps two or three weeks and may be reached at [redacted] in the event it is not possible to arrange an appointment for me today.

It is possible that I may go to New York for a few days. In that event it seems to me that a talk with the woman you mentioned who is doing the same sort of work I intend doing might be valuable. In that case it would probably be necessary for me to have a letter from you to her.

Sincerely,
